Whatever your sector, the look and feel of your premises affects everyone who enters them and speaks volumes about your brand. That's why you need a fit-out partner you can trust to smoothly deliver the kind of high quality finished environment that really does justice to your business or organisation.

Our fit-out service offers the perfect blend of flexibility and attention to detail, and extends to anywhere in the UK as well as embracing buildings of every shape, size and usage. Performed by skilled specialists who know their professions inside out, our services cover every aspect of fitting out your interior space to the exacting standards you'd expect from a team with as much experience as ours.

Backed up by the same 'green' ethos and Proactive Account Management (PAM) system that runs through all divisions of the business, our fit-out service is delivered with a consultancy-led approach that means clients enjoy the full benefit of our knowledge and vision.

What's more, a single point of contact and seamless project management minimise the need for client involvement once specifications, timescales and budgets have been agreed. In short, that means you get to focus on your everyday job while we get on with ours.

Quality work is paramount in every fit-out job, and with RFM it's guaranteed. Our specialists are experienced, qualified and safety conscious, and although the materials and technologies they use are state-of-the-art, they're committed to producing the kind of superb interiors that satisfy traditional standards of workmanship.

Finally, we know that commercial pressures mean timings and costings are particularly crucial when it comes to fitting out a building, whether it's an office space, superstore or secondary school. That's why we use detailed forecasts and multiple teams of carefully coordinated workers to make sure every project goes perfectly to plan and stays within budget.
